PICKS TWO IN LINE-UP AS PAY CAR BANDITS

Victims of $5,000 Jersey Robbery, Positive in Identification.

Edward Holmes, a chauffeur of No. 205 Bloomfield Street, and Charles Miller of No. 60 Jefferson Street, Hoboken, were arrested to-day on suspicion of being two of the men who took part in the hold-up of the messengers in the Public Service Corporation pay car in front of the Secaucus National Bank yesterday. John De Parr, a chauffeur, of No. 316 Jackson Street, Hoboken, also was taken in custody by the police.

In a line-up of fourteen men at Hoboken Police Headquarters to-day, Deputy Master Adam Gold of Secaucus, who was struck on the head and the box with $3,000 taken from him positively identified the pair. Miller he picked out as the man who struck him and Holmes as the one who tore the box from his hands.

De Parr said that the auto used was his. He told the police he had been held up at Weehawken on Sunday night by men who robbed him and took his car, which they used for the hold-up Monday. They will be arraigned in Secaucus.
